

University of Bonn

Bonn, Germany

The University of Florida's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences welcomes all students to study in Bonn, Germany, for a semester or full academic year.

Highlights

- Students who have not completed at least two semesters of German language instruction must attend an intensive German language course before the start of the program.
- This program is open to both undergraduates and graduates.
- Languages of instruction: German and English (many electives are taught in English)
- Required GPA: 3.0

Location

The Rhenish Friedrich-Wilhelms University of Bonn is considered to be one of Europe's most important institutes of higher education. As a leading research university, the university has evolved into a truly prominent international institution.

The birthplace of Beethoven, the University of Bonn has developed into a lively academic town and cultural center. The university's alumni includes five Nobel Prize winners. Situated on the picturesque Rhine River, Bonn's proximity to the centers of European politics enables residents to witness European history unfold before their eyes.

Housing

Students will be housed in single rooms in one of several student dorms located in different areas of town. Some rooms include a kitchenette and a private bathroom, while others have shared facilities. Residences are easily accessible by foot or public transportation.

Fast Facts

Founded: 1827

Enrollment: 27,500, including 3,800 international students

Schools: 7

Institutes and Centers: 11

Famous Alumni:

Max Ernst, Karl Marx

www.studyabroad.uni-bonn.de

Contact Information

UFIC Study Abroad Advisor:
Jess Mercier
jmercier@ufic.ufl.edu
(352) 294-3335

Program Coordinator:
Dr. Susanne Hill
shill@ufic.ufl.edu
(352) 273-1500

• See your assigned student financial aid advisor.