PROGRAM

Earn six credits through this interdisciplinary program that enables students to enhance their knowledge in engineering, life sciences, and planning processes and combine it with hands on lab work and company visits. Students will benefit from the application oriented and interdisciplinary approach of Osnabrück University of Applied Sciences to address and solve major problems on the way to a sustainable use of natural resources and innovative development.

LOCATION

Osnabrück is located in Lower Saxony in Northwestern Germany. The peace agreement between Protestants and Catholics that helped end the 30 Years' War was brokered here, earning it the nickname, "City of Peace."

EXCURSIONS

Tour major German manufacturers to include GM-Hütte, a steel manufacturing industry, manufacturers of harvest and tillage equipment, and the VW automobile plant in Osnabrück. Travel to Berlin, Bonn, Münster, Bremen and the North Sea, and a UNESCO World Heritage site. Trips to castles, palaces, and museums.

HOUSING

You will be sharing a double-room together with another student in a historical, newly renovated guesthouse on the University of Applied Sciences campus.
