Students will spend the spring semester gaining skills in the workplace and the classroom. Through class experiences of intercultural communication and on the job training, students will gain a unique perspective of working in a diverse environment.

Combining urban life and a relaxed seaside atmosphere, Valencia is becoming one of the most popular destinations on the Mediterranean coast. Propelling this renaissance is the “City of Arts and Sciences,” a museum complex and modern architectural masterpiece that adds to Valencia’s deep multicultural roots, cosmopolitan flavor, and warm climate to make it a true Mediterranean gem.

The program offers excursions to Madrid, Toledo, Granada, Barcelona, and Montanejos.

You will stay in furnished, centrally located apartments. All apartments are within walking distance or conveniently located to public transit routes relative to the university.
